Heart of Stone

Erasure

I cry for your heart of stone I'm gonna wait until you come home Oh why am I all alone?

I'm as good as dead, yeahI lost my sense of passion and direction

To protect myself from hurting and despair

Listen to my heart, my soul is aching

Fool or saint? 'Cause you went and left me and you so upset meI can't believe that you would ever find it easy

To walk away as if you'd never really cared

Did you expect that I'd give in and beg for mercy

Out in the gutter, out in the gutterI cry for your heart of stone

I'm gonna wait until you come home

Oh why am I all alone?

I'm as good as dead, yeahOoh I look back on the first night with affection

And if you had a heart you'd remember too

The way we used to run around like little children

Fool or saint? My mother told me you'd be no good for meI cry for your heart of stone

I'm gonna wait until you come home

Oh why am I all alone?

I'm as good as dead, yeahListen to my heart, my soul is aching

Out in the gutter

I got to break that heart of stoneI cry for your heart of stone

I'm gonna wait until you come home

Oh why am I all alone?

I'm as good as dead, yeahI cry for your heart of stone

I'm gonna wait until you come home

Oh why am I all alone?

I'm as good as dead, yeahI cry for your heart of stone

I'm gonna wait until you come home

Oh why am I all alone?

I'm as good as dead, yeah
