Last Night

Moby

Soft sympathetic patch of ground
Where I can lay my heavy burden down
Oh, beautiful scene in decay
There to remind us that nothing stays the same
If this be my last night on earth
Let me remember this for all that it's worth
If this be my last night on earth
Let me remember this for all that it's worth
Wild fruit, sands, override on the vine
Wild creatures come gather round to suckle their wine
The birds they feed before they take flight
As the weary sun succumbs to their heavy eyelid that is life
If this be my last night on earth
Let me remember this for all that it's worth
If this be my last night on earth
Let me remember this for all that it's worth
The intoxicated birds glide in a swarm
Then sing to me their drunken tunes
This is your last night on earth
Remember us for all that we were
Take sweet memories with you, with you
And plant those seeds somewhere new
This is your last night on earth
Remember us for all that we were
Take sweet memories with you
And plant those seeds somewhere new
