

Enough Is Enough

Golden Earring

Well, not so long ago, I ran into you
A pair of lonely eyes and a pair of broken hearted shoes
And then the other night, you were as cold as snow
You kept your blue jeans on and I never heard you leavin the room
Woke up half past noon, I was alone in bed
I could still smell your perfume
Drifting through the smoke signals of your black cigarettes
You gotta hold on me, straight to the bedroom
When my nerves went cracking down in my knees
Enough, enough is enough
If its love, nothings tougher than love
Written on my shaving mirror, in lipstick blood color
Amigo, leave it alone, you gotta leave it alone
Pick up the telephone, start investigating
You know that Cuban girl, with the Castro impersonation
Ive been checking around, with the revolutionary
All I have is a mirror with a message and a memory
Youll never understand, what comes over me
When I read her lines, written on the face I see
Tell her please, if its love, I wanna know where she hides that love
Enough, is never enough
Nothing can stop me now, no one can stop me now
I cant leave it alone, I cant leave it alone
I cant leave it alone, I cant leave it alone
No, no, no
