

Heaven Will Rise Up

Duane Stephenson

You judge a man by the length of his hair
You think weâ€™re foolish but weâ€™re not
You took our hopes and replace them with fears
With empty promises, and makes you care
You say that the will be freedom yeah
The freedom to live, to live as you say
Generation of vipers what they always say
I know theyâ€™ll be a price to pay

Chorus

For the heavens will rise up against you
My fathers hand will bear your name
Hell on earth will be your playground
But higher calling will bear my name
A higher calling bear my name

I lust for love, donâ€™t deny me my dew
I live and I breathe and I die like you
Never have much to give; still you take respect for granted
Now you wonder why I say
That I pay the price for things are free
Satisfying your need to be better than me
You said theyâ€™ll be justice but in later days
Iâ€™ve seen the seven ways you play
Iâ€™ve seen the seven ways you play

Chorus

When I feel thereâ€™s no way to go
And my best is nothing to show
There is the almighty showing me the way
Saying donâ€™t give up, itâ€™s not as hard as they say
Donâ€™t give in look at what life really means
Just be strong thereâ€™s joy through your sorrow

But if you do wrong
The heavens will rise up against you
If you do wrong
My fathers hand will bear your name
If you do wrong

Hell on earth will be your playground
But higher calling will bear my name
A higher calling bear my name

The heavens will rise up against you
My fathers hand will bear your name
