Happier Times

Tiger Army

So now I've gone and I've left you alone
No explanation will suffice or ever do
But I loved you, as crazy as it seems
And if I could, I'd go back and do so many things so differentlyThat was just me, in happier times
A black and white photo in your mind
And that's how I wish that you'd think of me
And forget all the heartbreakAnd I don't like the person I've become But you remember... the person that was
And in the end, that person is still me
So when you think of what I was, please do not forget that entirely
Are we defined by moments in our lives
Then what happens if those moments made you cry
It's not where you start, but where you end up they say But what happens when where you end up is nowhere that you want to be Nowhere at all
