Never Ever

Heroin

My decision, still make me a liar
My reasons still make me on fire
Better never for now and ever,
An extreme to hold, but we all grow is old
Nothing more to leave behind, not a stone unturned
Was nothing ever learned?
Is there no solution?
Is there no consolation?
All I can say is never ever again.
But no, I cannot pretend.
I can say it again and again and again.
It never ever goes away.
Not even in the time that's passing by.
Not even in time.
