

Never Ever

Heroin

My decision, still make me a liar
My reasons still make me on fire
 Better never for now and ever,
 An extreme to hold, but we all grow is old
Nothing more to leave behind, not a stone unturned
 Was nothing ever learned?
 Is there no solution?
 Is there no consolation?
 All I can say is never ever again.
 But no, I cannot pretend.
I can say it again and again and again.
 It never ever goes away.
Not even in the time that's passing by.
 Not even in time.
