Rebound

Carl Thomas

What's the reason you are so sad I don't think that I have seen you frown like that I thought that I made you smile But I haven't seen you do that in a while You say he called you And he said he loves you still In your eyes I see you miss him Did you bring me in your life to help you deal? Another night Now I'm feeling down rebound My heart can't help but frown rebound There's enough to go around reboundYou know I love you you know I care There is nothing I want more than to be there The words I say come as a friend 'Cause it seems the world we share's about to endOh please be careful Don't let your heart and mind stay at war All the things that cause you pain Well it seems they are all knocking at your doorAnother night Now I'm feeling down rebound My heart can't help but frown rebound There's enough to go around reboundSo I guess I'll go Pick up the pieces where they fall After all I have found

The choice that I have left is to reboundAnother night
Now I'm feeling down rebound
My heart can't help but frown rebound

There's enough to go around rebound, rebound, rebound, rebound, rebound, rebound, rebound, rebound, oh
