American Hearts

Piebald

HEY! your part of it HEY! your part of it HEY! your part of it I walk the streets of a Carolina watching people pushing shopping carts HEY! your part of it and there's a guy above me and he's washing windows making ten bucks a pop and he says to me... HEY! your part of it HEY! your part of it HEY! your part of it HEY! your part of it and I said Sir, well have you heard History continues itself that this country is un-equal still? continues itself history continues itself and I did not create the rules. From all I've heard this place has broken and all I've seen my american heart and all I've seen from all I've heard this place has broken HEY! your part of it my american heart HEY! your part of it YEA! your part of it HEY! your part of it
