Setting Sun

Darren Hayes

Leave me alone, come over here
I know it sounds funny
But I just can't stand another day on my own
Another bug in my ear sounds like noise to me
Living alone, a chill in the air
I don't hear from my brother
He is living in another continent far away
And it was his birthday today but I think I missed it
Setting sun
I think I'm heading for a setting sun
Oh, I really need to find a way back home
Oh, it's so urgent, there's an urgency
Leave me alone, get out of here
Still chasing my daddy, singing songs about my mammy
Got to let it go before I go down with the ship
There's my heartache sinking
Leave it alone, put it to bed
Everybody changing memory
Set in the pages of an e-mail or two
Yeah, I read all thirty two, it was love prized out of you
Setting sun
I think I'm heading for a setting sun
Ooh, I really need to find a way back home
Oh, it's so urgent, there's an urgency

Behind the setting sun
I think I'm heading for a setting sun
Ooh, I really need to find a way back home
Oh, it's so urgent, there's an urgency
Do I make you hot?
Do I make you uncomfortable?
A stirring down in your soul
For something more
Does it happen a lot?
Does the drudgery bring you down?
Is anyone still around?
I'm coming down
Do I make you hot?
Do I make you uncomfortable?

A stirring down in your soul
For something more
Does it happen a lot?
Does the drudgery bring you down?
Is anyone still around?
Oh, setting sun
I think I'm heading for a setting sun
Ooh, I really need to find a way back home
Oh, it's so urgent, there's an urgency
