Sleeping Giants

100 Monkeys

You're a little too lazy for genius
You'd rather stay in bed
Rest your eyes
Rest your dreaming eyes
While I'm gone
Rest while I'm goneYou're a little too great for greatness
You couldn't help yourself
Sometimes the world
It gets the best of us all
And it's not your faultYou're a little too lazy for genius
You'd rather stay in bed
Turn in your sheets like a roasting pig
You're greedy, greedyCould have been the one who saved the world
But you let the world save you instead
But I can't blame you I've done the same
I've done the same damn thingYou're a little too lazy for genius
You'd rather stay in bed
So sleep away for the rest of your days
And I'm gone
Waving bye gone
