

Down Another Day

Limp Bizkit

The end is near, the summer days
All the great things go away
Feel the cold comin' 'round again
Everything's gonna change again
Down another day, down another day
Oh, the winter I adore
Summer's gone forever more
Some days you come back to me
Seasons change, and set me free
Down another day, down another day
Don't have to bore you with details (I'll never let you down)
And every morning, the sun rise (I'll never let you down)
If I could hold you tomorrow (I'll never let you down)
When she's cold in the ocean (I'll never let you down)
The end is near, my winter fling
Change is melting everything
Now it's time, to sing for love
Season come, season go
Down another day, down another day
Don't have to bore you with details (I'll never let you down)
And every morning, the sun rise (I'll never let you down)
If I could hold you tomorrow (I'll never let you down)
When she's cold in the ocean (I'll never let you down)
I keep saying goodbye, saying goodbye
Keep saying goodbye
And she's always coming back, she keeps coming back
She keeps coming back
I keep saying goodbye, saying goodbye
Keep saying goodbye
And she's always coming back, she keeps coming back
You keep coming back
Don't have to bore you with details (I'll never let you down)
And every morning, the sun rise (I'll never let you down)
If I could hold you tomorrow (I'll never let you down)
When she's cold in the ocean (I'll never let you down)
Down another day, down another day
(I'll never let you down)
Down another day, down another day
