The Truth

Cris Cab

Do you wanna know the truth baybay (baby)
Or something beautiful
I wanna tell you the truth baybay
There's something you should knowI can tell the stars to grant all of your wishes
Tell me is this sin even it's been forgiven
And I could paint your sky in the middle of the winter
So tell is it still true even if you're bitterIs it clear now my dear? What's been happenin' here?
Maybe it's over now, it feels so much colder now
See it all in my mind, are we wastin' our lives?
If this is over now, ooh could it be over now?Do you wanna know the truth baybay?
Or something beautiful
I wanna tell you the truth baybay
Is something you should knowCome on girl, yeah, you know that you have it
When I first saw you it was magic
Took a couple left turns, now it's tragic
Oh no, no, no, oh, no, no, noEvery time that you felt the separation
You needed love but you lost in translation
You wanna have it though my lug from out the basement
Oh no, no, no, oh, no, no, noSee you all in my mind, no more wasting our lives
If this is over now, ooh baby it's over nowDo you wanna know the truth baybay?
Or something beautiful
I wanna tell you the truth baybay
There is something you should knowWe could write our life story
Like blowing trees, yeah
But I know you and you know me
And this our reality, yeahDo you wanna know the truth baaybay?
Or something beautiful
I wanna tell you the truth baybay
There is something you should knowDo you wanna know the truth baybay?
Or something beautiful
I wanna tell you the truth baybay
There is something you should know
