Rust and Rehab

Keeping Secrets

Tell me why do hearts that are broken speak in different tongues
And understanding is impossible
When broken doubt takes a hold of your breath
And tears your whole world apart

Give them hell; donâ€™t look back on a broken past
Save yourself, itâ€™s all youâ€™ve got please make this last
Across state lines, dreams will come with sleepless nights
Save me from this normal life, keep me safe from shallow eyes

Time and time I find that sulking selflessness
Make conversation meaningless
We search through doubt and open lies to find
There are no answers now

Letâ€™s pull the strings of discontent lay out the tongues of liars
One Minute, youâ€™re bulletproof
The next youâ€™re hanging from the noose

Youâ€™ve taken for granted all that you had
Soon you will see what lies ahead
Cut through the tension of remorse
Grace lips with our reflections light
