

Desperate Fools

Eric Carmen

I've been up too high, I've been down too low
I've been searchin' for somethin' with nowhere to go
Thought I'd make it alone but I'm so far from home
In a town full of desperate fools Oh, the sun beats down on the L.A. scene
But you can't feel the cold when the grass looks so green
And the games that I've played were not worth what I paid
In a town full of desperate fools I've been takin' my life one day at a time
Tryin' to piece it all together but I know in my mind
That I'm startin' to be what they want me to be
And I wonder sometimes what's becoming of me I've been takin' my life one day at a time
Tryin' to piece it all together but I know in my mind
That I'm startin' to be what they want me to be
And I wonder sometimes what's becoming of me
