Spoken

What happened yesterday
When your heart gave way?
No air inside, no eyes
To see your way
Life on earth is goneToday you're holding on
To the hand of God
Finally you're truly alive now
You've made it homeDid you fall upon your knees?
Tell me could you speak of anything
When He took your hands
When He wiped your tears away?
Tell me, did He speak?Today you're holding on
To the hand of God
Finally you're truly alive now
You've made it homeOne day we will see you
We will hear you
One day, we will all come home
And we will finally be aliveToday you're holding on
To the hand of God
Finally you're truly alive now
You've made it homeFinally you've made it home
Finally you've made it home
Finally you've made it home
Finally you've made it home
