

Better Half of Me

Joey Green

She's as pure as a new born baby
Stubborn as an old cowboy
She shines like a brand new diamond
Stole the heart of a southern boy

She's all I think of when I'm gone
All I need when I come back home
And she's the reason I believe
That girls the better half of me
Oh she's the better half of me

Oh she makes herself at home
Always fine wherever she is
Fits so perfectly in my arms
Makes me fall every time we kiss

She's all I think of when I'm gone
All I need when I come back home
And she's the reason I believe
That girls the better half of me
Oh she's the better half of me

I was afraid
To feel this way
So I built me
This heart of stone
She came and she saved me
Found a new way to break me
So now I never have to be alone

She's all I think of when I'm gone
All I need when I come back home
And she's the reason I believe
That girls the better half of me
Oh she's the better half of me
Oh she's the better half of me
