

It May Be Too Late

Justin Hines

We decided yesterday that we can do without
And it's taken all this time just to figure you out
And I'll be honest, it's taken it's toll
But I can't deny that its been worth it all

I still remember the day that I found you
And I couldn't believe all the beauty around you
And I knew you better than I knew myself
But now I'm not so sure

It may be too late
My darling
Our moment has come and gone
And how can I wait?
My darling
You came with a smile
We traveled some miles
If just for a while,
it may be too late
it may be too late.

Your Daddy loved me but your Mama was scared
She said 'my daughter is different, so boy beware.'
And we were all alone in a crowded room
Solving all the world's problems and sharing our truths

We skipped the surface, went straight to the core
And you told me things I never heard before
And you could charm the birds right out of trees
But I just don't know

It may be too late
My darling
Our moment has come and gone
And how can I wait?
My darling
You came with a smile
We traveled some miles
If just for a while,
it may be too late

it may be too late.

I guess forever was never the plan
But still I'm coming out a better man
And we'll take it all and live our journeys apart

Cuz life goes on Life goes on...

It may be too late
My darling
Our moment has come and gone
And how can I wait?
My darling
You came with a smile
We traveled some miles
If just for a while,
it may be too late
it may be too late.

It may be too late,

It may be too late.

---

Lyrics submitted by AY.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>