

Put It On Me (feat. Rickey Okay)

Donell Lewis

You can put it on me

Yea

Rickey Okay, Donell

You can put it on me

I feel good You can put it on me if you really want to

You can put it on me if you got something to lose

You can put it on me if you need someone to blame

You can put it on me, on me Yea late night sessions in the studio seshin

Why I rap about life is a blessin

So let me just address that topic with a question

Is my life really all that Im destined for?

Cause Im prepared for more striving for greatness

Appreciate every single download to a playlist

Checking the Academys destined for major things

So you can listen out for the Drums and Kings I dont wanna, I dont wanna, I dont wanna live without you

I dont wanna breathe without you but its all or nothing, nothing You can put it on me if you really want to

You can put it on me if you got something to lose

You can put it on me if you need someone to blame

You can put it on me, on me

Oh

You can put it on me if you really want to

You can put it on me if you got something to lose

You can put it on me if you need someone to blame

You can put it on me, on me See I really think its time that we address the situation

And make you never doubt my limitations

I cant be bothered waiting for a miracle

Watch me make it happen, turning stories into audio patterns

I catered to the people thats been there for me

Ever since (?) when

Taking perfect pictures Im the type (?)

Homie just wait one minute

Im doing way better than you thought, admit it I dont wanna, I dont wanna, I dont wanna live without you

I dont wanna breathe without you but its all or nothing, nothing You can put it on me if you really want to

You can put it on me if you got something to lose

You can put it on me if you need someone to blame

You can put it on me, on me

Oh

You can put it on me if you really want to

You can put it on me if you got something to lose

You can put it on me if you need someone to blame
You can put it on me, on me In the nightmares of your dreams
That's where you'll find me
I'll protect you from the thoughts inside your mind
So you can feel safe, in a better place
Inside my arms, until there's no trace of you ever being alone You can put it on me if you really want to
You can put it on me if you got something to lose
You can put it on me if you need someone to blame
You can put it on me, on me
Oh
You can put it on me if you really want to
You can put it on me if you got something to lose
You can put it on me if you need someone to blame
You can put it on me, on me Fades
