

L'enfant Sauvage

Gojira

So long I've been trying to match, it doesn't work
I'm trying, I don't know
The aberration of this world I tried to deal with
It killed a part of me that was raging
The pain is gone, the denial
I run away from institutions
I owe myself life There's no way I will respond to this passion
Anger flowing through me
There is light in this world I fight for
The reason you won't leave this cage, betray your child
The desire that you once had to reveal yourself
Forgot to create your own life
Anger, lies, denial The righteous anger boiling inside of us
Won't last for ever
Don't fear to let it out
Branches have grown through
The wolf is your master
The sky is all over me
I run on time
