

Sleepy Windbreaker

Kara's Flowers

We fill the day with careless displays
Going sailing with nothing to say When I fell
We could tell Now you're torn apart
The sun's driving fast
Taking photographs
It's morning at last And the sailors are taking a stand
With their heads buried deep in the sand Feeling well
Life is swell
When I fell
We could tell Hooray! When I fell
We could tell
Feeling well
Life is swell
