

Paddling Out

The Tributers

The waves are warm, the sun is out

The sea is full of ancients

Take all the space between the grains of sand

And automate it

[Chorus]There's someone here who laughs too hard at everything

There's someone here who laughs too hard at everything

You say isn't it hard?

Paddling out, paddling out

You say isn't it hard?

Paddling out, paddling out

The ride to land the mating crowds

Are out here for the weekend

We had to take our close before

The sun was gone completely

I used to lie there thinking clouds

Deciding queens and rich word doubts

The lines I throw myself are thin

Are shower curtain thin

[Chorus]There's someone here who laughs too hard at everything

There's someone here who laughs too hard at everything

You say isn't it hard?

Paddling out, paddling out

You say isn't it hard?

Paddling out, paddling out

You say isn't it hard?

Paddling out, paddling out

You say isn't it hard?

Paddling out, paddling out

You say isn't it hard?

Paddling out, paddling out

You say isn't it hard?

Paddling out, paddling out

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlrics.com/>