Thompson & Teddy Thompson

I long for lonely
Wherever it is gone,
Out of my life
Somewhere far flung,
Lonely has left me out in the crowd,
Not being alone is so
Awfully long. My poor mind
Looks set to crumble,
No peace for my thoughts
It's all rough and tumble. The husband, the baby
The dog and the cat,
Are all closing in on the miniature flat,
And I long for the lonely.
I long for lonely
Wherever it is gone,
Out of my life
Somewhere far flung,
Lonely walked out and
Left me surrounded,
This company's maddening, and I'm Confounded.
