

Roses Will Bloom Again

Jeff & Sheri Easter

VERSE1: I planted a little rose bush and tended it with care its buds began to blossom its sweet fragrance filled the air but when winter came it withered the petals drooped and fell to the ground my heart sank as it faded but
I'd forgotten who had made it and he said

CHORUS: Roses will bloom again just wait and see don't mourn what might have been only God knows how and when but roses will bloom again

VERSE 2: Louis was his only sweetheart a loving wife for forty years they cherished every day they had and held the memories dear he never dreamed he'd have to bury her and go home to live alone when he layed his love to rest he looked to heaven and tried his best to believe that CHORUS:roses will bloom again just wait and see dont mourn what might have been only God knows what might have been but roses will bloom again

VERSE 3: The precious rose of sharon broken and bruised in cruel shame stained the cross of calvary so that men might be saved satan cheered as he died while Mary and the others cried and God raised him up from deaths scene and kept a promise only he could keep

CHORUS: roses will bloom again just waitit and see dont mourn what might have been only God knows how
and when but roses will bloom again

---

Lyrics submitted by sarah.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlyrics.com/>