Indebted

Skirmish

Through my eyes I see you as a hero
A super human miracle you remained unfazed
By the road that faced you when
You took this world on all aloneFor all I am I owe you everything and there's no Reason to be scared anymore and I remember it
I know you tried to mend it
I know that I'm indebtedI know it has to grind you down
Those sleepless nights seemed endless
Stress on your mind relentless
I guess it's all behind you now that we made itUnder the strain I had to watch you struggle
You're spirit just refused to break
And the quiet strength sings like a thousand voices
I always knew that we'd be safe
