

Morphine Child

Savatage

There's a thief on a summer's night
Across an ocean
Who sees another's life fading away And of this life he writes
Without emotion
Then pushes it from sight
Somewhere faraway
To a distant land
Every tear betrayed
And never makes
And never makes
And never makes
And never makes a stand
never Makes a stand
Lord there's something wrong
never Makes a stand Could a star's forgotten light
A child's devotion
Embrace eternal night
In shallow graves As we watch from distant heights
No breath or motion
Still every ghost must haunt in its own way
Sleep beneath my dreams
Safe within my hands
Where I never under Never under
Never understand Lord there's something wrong No one remembers
No one denies
No one asks questions
No one replies Here nothing enters
Nothing departs
Here nothing's ended
If nothing starts In your life could you carry on Could you never think about it
Till in time you start to doubt it Then you close your eyes
Is it really gone
How in truth can you defend her
If you're really not remembering No regrets
If you just forget
If a memory is lenient
You can find it most convenient

So you let it fade
Till it's very vague
Just a silhouette of shadows
But the shadows are still lingering Still I hold you there
With your endless stare I'm too old to be living this Lived to long to be given this
Can our god be forgiving this I had a light that shined
Across my mind
Rarely see it any more Now it is mostly dark
Accept for sparks
Can't remember what they're for I am the morphine child
The dream defiled
The never ending metaphor
I am the wizard oz
Result and cause
Never look behind that door Cantations
Cantations
Cantations
Cantations Never listen to the crowd before me
Never listen to the self ordained
Never really wanted to believe it any way Time is fading
Night is calling
I am on my way Turn around turn around
Turn around turn around Time is fading
Night is calling
I am on my...

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>