

Large World Turning

John Mellencamp

Is that okay? Is that okay? Is that okay?
Is that okay? Is that okay? Is that okay?
Is that okay? Someday this will all be over
Nothing lasts forever, thank God for change
I love you now, we should stay together
No one's crying about a single thing Large world turning, live while you can Live while you can, large world turning
Live while you can, live while you can You may sleep where your lover leads you
Come and brush these crumbs from my bed
Tell me the truth, I will never leave you
I'll be happy by the baby's bed Large world turning, live while you can
Live while you can, large world turning
Live while you can, live while you can When this world becomes an ocean
We will find the desert
Right next to the pig's tail
And watch the summer sun Corrugated roofs with little white houses
Hide the dogs that walk on three legs
Someday this will all be over
No one's playing that pissin' game Large world turning, live while you can
Live while you can, large world turning
No one can see the end Large world turning, no one sees the end
No one sees the end, large world turning
Live while you can, live while you can
