

Hallucinations

The Mud Howlers

She cast a spell in the wickedest way and suddenly my day was dark and grey
And all I could feel, and all I could feel She took me along and changed my direction
I gazed at my soul spiraling down
And all I could see, and all I could see Hallucinations of you in my head below the sunshine I see you again Hallucinations of you in my head below the sunshine I see you again My mind is full of spinning emotions and I hear you in the wind of the ocean I'm getting the feeling that we've been here before little did I know what was behind the door
And she gave me the potion
And all I could see, and all I could see Hallucinations of you in my head
below the sunshine I see you again
Hallucinations of you in my head
below the sunshine I see you again
I see you again I got a feeling, Hallucinations
I got a feeling, Hallucinations
