One Shot Down

The Briggs

No one's there but I'm not alone
My skin's no longer my own
I'm a parasite host, merely a ghost
Of who I used to beThere's a killer running free
They say he looks just like me
Voice in my head, I was misled
By a stranger with my faceNow I got nowhere to run
I got nowhere to hide, someone disguised as me
Committed double homicide but it's to late
They won't stop till they have someone to blameOne shot down, two shot down
A pistol that belonged to my daddy
One shot down, two shot down
A life sentence for my conscience
With no chance of paroleVigilantes at my door
They show no remorse
The gallows set, the town is met
For a hanging in the squareIt's a fate that's worse than death
Choking on every breath
There's no escape, accept my fate
An eye for an eyeBut its too late for me
To start to have regrets todayOne shot down, two shot down
A pistol that belonged to my daddy
One shot down, two shot down
Personality fractured in twoOne shot down, two shot down
They got what they deserved
Now they're laying in the dirt
