One Shot Down

The Briggs

No one's there but I'm not alone My skin's no longer my own I'm a parasite host, merely a ghost Of who I used to be There's a killer running free They say he looks just like me Voice in my head, I was misled By a stranger with my faceNow I got nowhere to run I got nowhere to hide, someone disguised as me Committed double homicide but it's to late They won't stop till they have someone to blameOne shot down, two shot down A pistol that belonged to my daddy One shot down, two shot down A life sentence for my conscience With no chance of paroleVigilantes at my door They show no remorse The gallows set, the town is met For a hanging in the squareIt's a fate that's worse than death Choking on every breath There's no escape, accept my fate An eye for an eyeBut its too late for me To start to have regrets todayOne shot down, two shot down A pistol that belonged to my daddy One shot down, two shot down Personality fractured in twoOne shot down, two shot down They got what they deserved
