Lightweight

Demi Lovato

This line is words you said,
Have all gone to my head
I hear angels sing, in your voice
When you pull me close,
Feelings I've never known
They mean everything,
And leave me no choice

Light on my heart,
Light on my feet,
Light in your eyes,
I can't even speak
Do you even know,
How you make me weak

I'm a lightweight better be careful what you say
With every word I'm blown away
You're in control of my heart

I'm a lightweight easy to fall easy to break
With every move my whole world shakes
Keep me from falling apart

Make a promise please
You'll always be in reach
Just incase I need
You there when I call (here when I call)
This is all so new
Seems to good to be true
Could this really be
A safe place to fall

Light on my heart,
Light on my feet,
Light in your eyes,
I can't even speak
Do you even know,
How you make me weak
Oh ohhh

I'm a lightweight better be careful what you say
With every word I'm blown away
You're in control of my heart

I'm a lightweight easy to fall easy to break
With every move my whole world shakes
Keep me from falling apart

Keep me from falling under in your love
It's almost all too much
Handle with care
Say you'll be there

I'm a lightweight better be careful what you say
You're in control of my heart

I'm a lightweight easy to fall easy to break
With every move my whole world shakes

Keep me from falling apart

Keep me from falling apart

Oh ohhh
Falling apart
