Matches to Ashes

Novice

The tension in this room could kill us all
We're tearing down these walls
And all the things that keep us trapt inside
I think it's starting to sink in
You always know what to say to get to me
To get under my skinWalk away
Let it go
Let it all come down and bring you to your knees
There's nothing left here to save us nowThere's only so much more that this can take
Did you plan on fading out?
Did we light this fire just to watch it burn?
You're a lie, you made it clear you're moving on
It's alright, it's clear now we'll make it through this timeWalk away
Let it go
Let it all come down and bring you to your knees
There's nothing left here to save us nowYou're the only one that's left to mend
Take it out on me
I think you've held on long enough
You said you'd always be there till the end
But don't count on me, you're not the one, we're moving onWalk away
Let it go
Let it all come down and bring you to your knees
There's nothing left here to save us nowWalk away
Let it go
Let it all come down and bring you to your knees
There's nothing left here to save us now
