Loaded

Deacon Blue

You sigh and you walk
You talk, you care about nothing
And sometimes you're feelin'
That life has treated you wrongI've got a feeling, that you know what the score is, baby
But it's hard when you're sitting here surrounded by friends
I've got a love that I'll cling on to
And I'll stay there, stay there till the endI have found an answer
I don't think you don't care
Just you laugh 'cause you're loaded
And things are different from thereI have found an answer
I don't think you don't care
Just you laugh 'cause you're loaded
And things are different from thereAs you walk and you talk and you sing and you shout
And you justify about anything
And you rant and you rave and you hope and you say nothing
And you eat and you drink and you dress and you liveAs if no one else did, baby
No one else like you lives out in this world
I've got a love that I'll cling on to
And I'll stay there, stay there till the endOne thing I know is I have found an answer
I don't think you don't care
Just you laugh 'cause you're loadedI have found an answer
I don't think you don't care
Just you laugh 'cause you're loaded
And things are different from thereI have found an answer
I don't think you don't care
Just you laugh 'cause you're loaded
And things are different from thereI have found an answer
I don't think you don't care
Just you laugh 'cause you're loaded
And things are different from thereI have found an answer
I don't think you don't care
Just you laugh 'cause you're loaded
And things are different from thereI have found an answer
I don't think you don't care
Just you laugh 'cause you're loaded
And things are different from there
