Oh Love

Brad Paisley

Strong like a mother holds her child
Free as horses runnin' wild
And real as a prayer on a lonely night
And sure as the ocean tide
Oh love, oh love
Oh, the many colors that you're made of
You heal, you bleed
You're the simple truth and you're the biggest mystery
Oh love, oh love
Deep as the life from God's own breath
Endless even after death

Gone like the sunset
You can break a heart in pieces
Put it back together again
You can break down sweet forgiveness
You're the one that never ends, oh love
Oh love, oh love
Oh, the many colors that you're made of
You heal, you bleed
You're the simple truth and you're the biggest mystery
Oh love, oh love
