

Behind the Fool

Del Amitri

Don't tell her that you want her
Don't ask her to be yours
Don't tell her she is everything Or she might see the fool behind the frown
And then the heart behind the fool Don't tell her that you need her
Don't tell her that you care
Don't ask her to hold you Or she might see the fool behind the frown
And then the heart behind the fool Behind the cool, there's a dreading that Someday she'll betray you
Someday she will dispose of
All her photographs of you So don't tell her when you're lonely
Don't tell her when you're blue
Don't tell her she means everything to you So don't tell her that you need her
Don't tell her that you care
Don't ask her to hold you Or she might see the fool behind the frown
And then the heart behind the fool
