

If the World Would End

Frankie J

I woke up this morning with this question on my mind What if we were running out of time? and the world was ending all my working moments came flashing before my eyes all i could think was whats the use of overtime why? why didnt i do this? why didnt i do that?
why couldnt i go home when i had the chance? spend more time on building you and me turning moments into memoriesif i would of spent more time on you a wise investment paid in dividends through and through i would be so rich in love with you there be no regrets about money i cant spend i wouldnt care if the world endsi called in sick this morning because i made up my mind had to catch up because i was so far behind could of made a minute so i bought dozen roses and brought breakfast to the bed kissed the lips upon your pretty sleepy head im gonna do this, im gonna do that make the best of moments we've never had laughing to the brink of you and me filling it up with loving memoriesnow im gonna spend more time on you a wise investment paid in dividends through and through
there be no regrets about money i cant spend i wouldnt care if the world endsI'ma put you first in line and let our love age like red wine and Watch it keep getting better with time So I'ma give you mineso im gonna spend more time on you a wise investment paid in dividends through and through
there be no regrets about money i cant spend i wouldnt care if the world endsI wouldn't care if the world would end I wouldn't care if the world would end I wouldn't care, no I wouldn't care Cause I know you'll be there.
