

Message of the Bhagavat

Shelter

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Here it goes, concealed, revealed
A revolution a solution without bloodshed finally
Disciplic succession, placed in my possession Complete so sweet, a satisfying taste for an empty race
And there's a fire in the city, a fool won't admit it
And only a fool will sit right in it Truth has been spoken for all mankind
If you search for peace then you can find
The blind will stay blind if they're inclined
But the wise will apply in this crucial time In illusion, in confusion
World's greatest brains create [Incomprehensible]
Expand our bold stand
There can be hope for modern man It's the message of the Bhagavat
Look at the message of the Bhagavat
It's the message of the Bhagavat History of the universe, 18,000 verses for our edification
Sat like an ass in class for 14 years
At last I got some real education Extinguishing the fire of our workaday life
That burns and burns us until we break
Illuminating rejuvenating not degenerating
Giving shelter to the people who want truth Has been spoken for all mankind
It's a mad, sad world when you can find
Man confined to the grind and they don't even mind
To be working for some jerk and leave their life behind In illusion, in confusion
And don't think there won't be any retribution
Expand our bold stand, there can be hope
There can be hope, there can be hope
There can be hope for modern man We got, we got, we got
The message of the Bhagavat
No fear, no threat
[Incomprehensible]
[Incomprehensible]

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>