Cold In California

Allison Moorer

The summer days are gone
Along with you they disappeared and left me here
Just like the falling leaves
I watched you turn and drift away, nothing staysDon't want to face the fall alone
But it's your nature to move onIs it cold in California, like I told you it would be
Do you need someone to warm you like I warmed you
Is it cold in California, like it is in Tennessee?Spent the holidays
With a man made out of snow, ho ho ho
Kept on building fires
But they didn't ease the chill, nothing willThis has been the hardest time
Winter has the longest nightsIs it cold in California, like I told you it would be
Do you need someone to warm you like I warmed you
Is it cold in California, like it is in Tennessee?I'll count the days until the spring
And hope it brings you back to meIs it cold in California, like I told you it would be
Do you need someone to warm you, be there for you
Is it cold in California, like it is in Tennessee?
