

Wind Me Up

Fastball

Funny, how I couldn't see
This is not at all about you, it's about me
Everything has happened the way it was meant to be
Here's an opportunity for us to find
A way for me to tell you what's been on my mind
Please forgive me, I don't mean to seem unkind
But you wind me up, so wind me up again
I feel the tug of war
It only seems to happen when we open love's door
Everything is back to the way it was before
Can you tell the difference or is it the same?
Does it really count unless we give it a name

Please forgive me, I don't mean to seem insane
But you wind me up, better wind me up again
Funny, but I thought you knew
All those things you think about I think about too
Gotta separate the unreal from what is true
Here's an opportunity for us to find
A way for me to tell you what's been on my mind
Please forgive me, I don't mean to seem unkind
But you wind me up, so wind me up again
