Drone State

Project Pitchfork

the kingdoms are united and their opinion about us is clear you hear it and see it every day their patience for us has gone away our kingdom is divided and the wrong one occupies the throne alone with blindfolded eyes she is just a shadow of herself on our path of liesdo you see that difference between you and me do you see the wall built up between you and mewe lost our sight for life we are walking on the dead there is no time for doubts there are no breaks in the male machineyou weren't right so sit down and just stay quiet all we've ever done was meant to stay and even if aou pray it will melt down in her sundo you see that difference between you and me
do you see the wall built up between you and mewe lost our sight for life
there are no breaks in the male machine
