Please Forgive My Heart (Funk Version)

Bobby Womack

I could try to say Im sorry
But that wont be quite enough
To let you know the pain that I feel
And it just wont let up
It feels like the sky is falling
And the clouds are closing in
Where did I lose control
When did it all begin chorus
Please forgive my heart
Its not that the problem
Lies anywhere in there
Im a liar Im in a dream
Goin my own way
Nothing to rely on
The dawn is a silent witness
To the blindness of the night
And we see our reflection so clear
In the blush of morning light
Time can pass so slowly
When you face your burden down
Your term is not commuted
It lingers without a sound
Please forgive my heart
Its not that the problem
Lies anywhere in there
Im a liar Im in a dream
Goin my own way
Nothing to rely on
Repeat chorus
