

Holding On

Pillar

I'm gonna keep on holding on
Times are changing, rearranging
All the raging over little things has got me all confused
And I don't why, but it seems I caught the big lie
And I'm letting go and reaching out for truth
So, I can't stop now 'til I find out what it's all about
And somehow grab a hold, so no one can take it away
I'll be, I'll be holding on, I see right where I belong
I know everything that's going on around me
I'll be, I'll be holding on, I see right where I belong
I know everything that's going on around me
Your frustrations, complications, time is wasting
You better figure out whether you're wasting time
It all comes down to I can't make you feel what I do
But I can feel for you, so what do you got to lose?
I'll be, I'll be holding on, I see right where I belong
I know everything that's going on around me
I'll be, I'll be holding on, I see right where I belong
I know everything that's going on around me
I'm gonna keep on holding on while all of this is going on
I should've seen this all along but now I see right where I went wrong
That doesn't mean I can't be strong, so now, I've got to carry on
It's hard to see that I was gone, I'll stay right here where I belong
I'll be, I'll be holding on, I see right where I belong
I know everything that's going on around me
I'll be, I'll be holding on, I see right where I belong
I know everything that's going on around me
I'll be, I'll be holding on, I see right where I belong
I know everything that's going on around me
I'll be, I'll be holding on, I see right where I belong
I know everything that's going on around me
