

Your Bedtime Story Is Scaring Everyone

In Flames

Oh, find time and play with innocence
Like you ever would
Doesn't seem to make any sense
I guess you deliver misery just like you should
Oh, 9 o' clock and you paint the skies gray
It not your fault, we're the ones who betray
But how can you say it with such ease
You want to take a stand or you just wanna fight
Your bedtime story is scaring everyone
But you make me understand the evil that men do
The evil that men do
