

Walking Higher

Heather Nova

I carry you with me
A ghost inside
And in these shattered arms
You're still alive I carry you with me
A holy shrine
And dogs and angels follow
Right behind And could I be walkin' higher
Could I be right beside her ? The bones they buried
Will feed the trees
But every word you ever spoke
Is still in me And could I be walkin' higher
Could I be right beside her ? And I will feel for you in the music
And I will send that river home
And I will cry for you sometimes
When the night is down And I raise my head up to the mountains
Talk to the birds and I fly
'Cause the spirit lives on
When the body dies And could I be walkin' higher
Could I be right beside her?
Could I be walkin' higher
