Lonesome Tears

Beck

Lonesome tears, I can't cry them anymore
I can't think of what they're for oh they ruin me every time
But I'll try to leave behind some days
These tears just can't erase, I don't need them anymore
How could this love, ever turning
Never turn it's eye on me?
How could this love, ever changing
Never change the way I feel
Lazy sun, your eyes catch the light
With promises that might come true for a while Oh I'll ride farther than I should Harder than I could, just to meet you there
How could this love ever turning
Never turn it's eye on me?
How could this love ever changing
Never change the way I feel?

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/