Dangerous

My American Heart

You may say, our lives have changed
But baby, I promise that we're still the same
And the leaves are falling quicker
Like a rain drop in the spring
I think it's your love that I cannot believeGive me attention
Give me some time
You see, your love is just so dangerous
It should be a crimeTo notice when you're leaving me
Without any sounds
Your love is just so dangerous, sometimesOh, I know this might sound selfish
But I love you by yourself
When it comes to your affection
You'd rather be with someone elseAnd my tears are falling quicker
Like a snowflake in the winter
I just wish I had the better side of your heartGive me attention
Give me some time
You see, your love is just so dangerous
It should be a crimeTo notice when you're leaving me
Without any sounds
Your love is just so dangerous, so dangerousGive me attention
Give me some time
You see, your love is just so dangerousI said god damn, your love's so dangerous
It should be a crime
Your love is just so dangerous sometimes
