

Let Go

Medina

Let go, time to release all this pain so I can't love again let go, discover the truth that's inside, no more tears, left to cry; sweetest lullaby, I want to sing from my heart stream from the top of my lungs, let go, let go.I just want to dance right here until I die till no love is left to breathe in 'cause when I dance alone I feel alive so I'm dancing to release it.Just let it slip, slip, slip just let it slip
just let it slip away like a moment lost in time just let it slip, slip, slip
just let it slip
but you're just so far away,
you were never really mine.
Crazy even though I _____
just let it slip
'cause you were never meant to be mine.Dream on, why should I try, and I try if you're not someone I can lean on it's just an illusion that your grass is green I thought I was happy on the other side but there's nothing to believe in it's killing me, something but I feel alive but now I know how to release you.Just let it slip, slip, slip
just let it slip
just let it slip away like a moment lost in time
just let it slip
but you're just so far away,
you were never really mine.
just let it slip
'cause you were never meant to be mine.
