

Wise

jamesragbone

Never thought I'd hold another
Like I'm holding you right now
But through you I've rediscovered
 How to love again somehow
You brought me back from the place
That I thought no time could erase, till now
 Don't know if this will last
 Or if our time will come to pass
I'm not concerned with things like where or when
Don't know if it be wise to call that love there in your eyes
 I just know it's good to feel this way again
 Haven't used this heart for so long
 It forgot how to feel
 Now that emptiness is all gone
 You fill me up with something real

You brought me back from the place
That I thought no time could erase, till now
 Don't know if this will last
 Or if our time will come to pass
I'm not concerned with things like where or when
Don't know if it be wise to call that love there in your eyes
 I just know it's good to feel this way again
 I took one look at your face
 It brought me back from the place i thought no time could erase, till now
 Don't know if this will last
 Or if our time will come to pass
I'm not concerned with things like where or when
Don't know if it be wise to call that love there in your eyes
 I just know it's good to feel this way again
