

Deeper Than Love

West Indian Girl

Deeper than LoveMy heart is broken
Here in the cup of my hands
From between cracked fingers
Old blood spillsI had to move on, baby
For when I tasted my own tears
They were too sweet
And I knew that I had come to closeAnd I have tried to shine in the darkness
Entertaining vanities in vainFall deeper
Fall deeperMy heart is broken
Here in the cup of my hands
From between cracked fingers
Old blood spillsI had to move on, baby
For when I tasted my own tears
They were too sweet
And I knew that I had come to closeAnd I have tried to shine in the darkness
Entertaining vanities in vain
But now won't you come with me
As I open my eyesAnd hold on Hold on
And let go
Let go
Let the virus live a life
Hold on
And hold on
And let go
Let go
And fall deeper
Even than love
Even than love
Hold on
And fall deeper
Even than love
Even than love
Even than love
Even than love...
