

And Gomorra

July for Kings

I could feel from miles away
The time you spent and the games you played
In his eyes and his name upon your tongue
Oh, but I kept walkin' Through the pain and the desert sand
Through the night as you took his hand
I found a way to remind you how it was
To remind you how it was so long ago, so long ago, yeah Let's walk away from the valley
There's no life in here anymore
Let's pack our hopes and our dreams away
And just walk through that door Now we're marching miles 'til the sky will rest
Until we're free, and we're safe unless
You turn around to see it all fall
No, we can't look back She said, "I know, I know"
She said, "I know, I know"
She said, "I know, I know"
She said, "I know that we can't look back" Now our burning city lighting up the night
Now our burning God takes away our sight
All those fallen Angels came a little late
Our forgotten God never hesitates, hesitates Trust in me, trust in me
I will give you life
Take my hand, take my hand
I will clean your eyes Trust in me, trust in me
I will give you life
Close your eyes, close your eyes
From Gomorra's skies, from Gomorra's skies She said, "I know"
She said, "I know"
She said, "I know that we can't look back
No, we can't look"
Oh, she said, "I know, no, we, we can't look back" Now our burning city lighting up the night
Now our burning God takes away our sight
All those fallen Angels came a little late
Our forgotten God never hesitates Trust in me, trust in me
I will give you life
Take my hand, take my hand
I will clean your eyes Trust in me, trust in me
I will give you life
Close your eyes, close your eyes
From Gomorra's skies, from Gomorra's skies Trust in me, trust in me
I will give you life
